

A meter stick is a common instrument for measuring length or distance.

Speed is represented as distance divided by time.

A stopwatch can be used to measure time.

